

Livingston County, Illinois

Below is the location of the known tile in the Mamer farm as provided by the tenant. It is presumed that there are other tile lines crossing the property but the exact size and location are not known. The farm is in two different drainage districts (Eppards Point and Turtle Creek) and there's an open ditch located $\frac{1}{2}$ west of the west property line and a drop box for a 24" tile in the east road ditch.
